Not a Book

www.malala.org

“... This award is not just for me. It is for those forgotten children who want education. It is for those frightened children who want peace. It is for those voiceless children who want change.” These were the words of Malala Yousafzai when she won the Nobel Peace Prize in 2014. With more than 130 million girls out of school today, her organization continues to work in numerous ways to break down the barriers that hold girls back.

Assembly, their digital newsletter for young women to share their thoughts, challenges and accomplishments, is also an opportunity for all of us to learn about this new generation of leaders.

Review the New

River by Elisha Cooper

A woman travels the length of the Hudson River by canoe in Cooper’s latest. The 300-mile solo journey itself begins with a question: “Can she do this?” There are wildlife encounters, rapids, and other challenges to face. There are also peaceful joys and friendly reassurances along the way.

Fueled by Facts

Seeds Move! by Robin Page
Every seed, big or small, needs sunlight, water, and an uncrowded place to put down roots. But how do seeds get to the perfect place to grow? This exploration of seed dispersal covers a wide range of seeds and the creatures and other forces of nature that help them move.

Snowman – Cold = Puddle: Spring Equations by Laura Purdie Salas
Math meets metaphor in this eye-opening exploration of spring. Each clever equation is a tiny, perfect poem that prompts readers to look at the ordinary and see the miraculous. Engaging sidebars reveal the science behind the signs of spring.
