Section III: Circulation of Materials

CONFIDENTIALITY OF LIBRARY RECORDS

The Hoover Public Library respects the library user's right to privacy with respect to information sought or received, and materials consulted, borrowed, acquired and transmitted. The legal custodian of records for the Hoover Public Library is the Library Director. As the legal custodian of records, the Library Director may designate one or more employees to serve as persons responding to any request for Library records or information about a library user when the Library Director is absent or unavailable.

The circulation and registration records of the Hoover Public Library shall not be made available to any agency of state, federal or local government except when a court order in proper form, issued by a court of competent jurisdiction after showing of good cause, is presented to the Library by the law enforcement agency or person seeking the records.

No Library employee or volunteer may release Library records or reveal information about a library user to any third party or law enforcement agent unless authorized to do so by the Library Director or the Library Director's designated alternate.

This policy is supported by the following sections from the Code of Alabama:

Registration and circulation records shall not be open for inspection by, or otherwise available to, any agency or individual except for the following entities: (a) the Library which manages the records; (b) the state education department for a library under its jurisdiction when necessary to assure the proper operations of such Library. Aggregate statistics shown from registration and circulation records, with all personal identification removed, may be released or used by a library for research and planning purposes. Provided however, any parent of a minor child shall have the right to inspect the registration and circulation records of any school or public library that pertain to his or her child.
